

San Diego de Alcala

By:Chris

The San Diego de Alcala mission is the first mission that was founded by Father Serra, Palou and Parron. It was founded on July 16, 1769. Also, this mission is located near the mouth of the San Diego River. It was founded to spread the Catholic religion with other people. At the mission they had didacus, and gardens containing old hibicus, succlents, citrus, and avocado.
